LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT & CEO

Welcome to Toronto and to MJBizConINT'L!

It's interesting, though hardly surprising, how quickly the focus of the cannabis markets has shifted to the international scene. And the most well-developed of these international cannabis markets is of course our host country for this event – Canada. With full legalization now only weeks away, you've convened here in Toronto with the savvy entrepreneurs, investors and companies that will be leading the way in this country and around the world.

Drawing less media attention yet likely to offer significant opportunities in their own right are the advancing medical marijuana markets in Europe and South America. Looking at the recent legalization actions in the United Kingdom as an example, it has been both breathtaking and thrilling to follow the pace of change now occurring in these regions.

The challenges of pursuing opportunities in these global markets are hurdles that experienced cannabis entrepreneurs from around the world are already familiar with: business strategies must always navigate the very fragmented nature of each country's laws and regulations.

You've made a terrific decision to join those very entrepreneurs here at MJBizConINT'L – the individuals who have already walked these roads, know the best practices, understand the landscape... and are ready and willing to share their knowledge for the good of the entire marketplace.

I'm excited to kick off the very first MJBizCon event with a dedicated international focus. And rest assured that with everything that happens over these three days, the MJBizDaily team will continue to follow every development, update, and market making an impact on the global cannabis industry, helping you – the entrepreneurs and investors – understand what it means for your own business interests.

Let's go global!

Enjoy the show!

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Wednesday, August 15 | 9:20-10:00am | Hall F

Brenden Kennedy

CEO, Tilray

The velocity of change in the international cannabis markets is faster than anything Brendan Kennedy has seen in the past eight years – even faster than the rapid changes that have occurred in the United States and Canada. Today, Tilray finds itself among a handful of premiere players on the international cannabis stage. But operating in an emerging global market that moves at breakneck speed doesn't come without some setbacks. Brendan will talk about obstacles the company faces in some markets, such as Jamaica and Uruguay; why it stayed out of others, like Israel, and why it has succeeded – so far – in places like Australia, Germany and Portugal. While the number of international cannabis companies remains small, Brendan knows the competition is growing. In this session he'll discuss what it will take to be a winner in the global cannabis market, today and tomorrow.

YOU'LL GET INSIGHTS ON:

- Developing a global strategy
- Market research and due diligence in foreign markets
- Identifying opportunities to seize and risks to avoid
